

Check-in Solution

Perfect for shared office spaces

Sharing office space with several companies can lead to confusion among visitors because, where do they find you?

A check-in solution combines practicality with aesthetics. You get a modern and good-looking solution that ensures minimal confusion when guests enter the building.

Create Your Own Unique Solution

The list above is just some of the many features available with a Q-Cal Check-in. You decide which features to combine to create the perfect solution for your shared office space.

Provide your guests with a map of the building to help them find their way, or let them notify a company representative of their arrival. Your representative can then pick them up in the lobby.

Several customers have invested in this solution because it minimizes unnecessary disturbances of employees and makes receiving guests easy and efficient.
